English Communication skills Lab-2

Any professional student's success depends on their ability to communicate effectively. The language lab offers a technology diversion for teaching English language proficiency. Here at Vignan Institute of Engineering for Women, the English language lab provides a unique outcome focus and is beneficial in enhancing the English language learning process. When students study a language from multimedia, digital sources, the quality of their language competency will be higher because English has become increasingly important in the twenty-first century. In almost all academic subjects, it is required.

The language lab offers a rich learning environment and a fresh perspective for the students to support themselves initially. a technological advancement in language learning that uses audio-visual installations. In this two-way learning activity, the teacher's and the students' contributions are extremely important. Computers are merely a tool, not a solution. Through the language learning lab, students must pick up the language extremely rapidly and should regard it as a self-accessible toolkit. The language lab, which is taught to students through this medium. is important in helping them master the fundamentals of spoken English fluency.

OBJECTIVES: To enable the students to learn demonstratively the communication skills of listening, speaking, reading and writing.

OUTCOME: A study of the communicative items in the laboratory will help the students become successful in the competitive world.

English Communication skills Lab-2 Report

Any professional student's success depends on their ability to communicate effectively. The language lab offers a technology diversion for teaching English language proficiency. Here at Vignan Institute of Engineering for Women, the English language lab provides a unique outcome focus and is beneficial in enhancing the English language learning process. When students study a language from multimedia, digital sources, the quality of their language competency will be higher because English has become increasingly important in the twenty-first century. In almost all academic subjects, it is required.

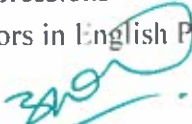

The language lab offers a rich learning environment and a fresh perspective for the students to support themselves initially. a technological advancement in language learning that uses audio-visual installations. In this two-way learning activity, the teacher's and the students' contributions are extremely important. Computers are merely a tool, not a solution. Through the language learning lab, students must pick up the language extremely rapidly and should regard it as a self-accessible toolkit. The language lab, which is taught to students through this medium, is important in helping them master the fundamentals of spoken English fluency.

OBJECTIVES: To enable the students to learn demonstratively the communication skills of listening, speaking, reading and writing.

OUTCOME: A study of the communicative items in the laboratory will help the students become successful in the competitive world.

The Lab including the following

- Debating Practice work
- Group Discussions Practice work
- Presentation Skills Practice work
- Interview Skills Practice work
- Email, Curriculum Vitae Practice work
- Idiomatic Expressions
- Common Errors in English Practice

English Communication skills Lab-1 Report

Any professional student's success depends on their ability to communicate effectively. The language lab offers a technology diversion for teaching English language proficiency.

Here at Vignan Institute of Engineering for Women, the English language lab provides a unique outcome focus and is beneficial in enhancing the English language learning process. When students study a language from multimedia, digital sources, the quality of their language competency will be higher because English has become increasingly important in the twenty-first century. In almost all academic subjects, it is required.

The language lab offers a rich learning environment and a fresh perspective for the students to support themselves initially, a technological advancement in language learning that uses audio-visual installations. In this two-way learning activity, the teacher's and the students' contributions are extremely important. Computers are merely a tool, not a solution. Through the language learning lab, students must pick up the language extremely rapidly and should regard it as a self-accessible toolkit. The language lab, which is taught to students through this medium, is important in helping them master the fundamentals of spoken English fluency.

OBJECTIVES: To enable the students to learn through practice the communication skills of listening, speaking, reading and writing.

OUTCOME: A study of the communicative items in the laboratory will help the students become successful in the competitive world.

The Lab includes the following Topics

- Why study Spoken English?
- Making Inquiries on the phone, thanking and responding to Thanks Practice work.
- Responding to Requests and asking for Directions Practice work.
- Asking for Clarifications, Inviting, Expressing Sympathy, Congratulating
- Apologising, Advising, Suggesting, Agreeing and Disagreeing Practice work.
